

Resource Allocation System

To find out if you qualify for funded support from the Council for your social care needs, we will complete an assessment with you.

The Resource Allocation System takes the information about your social care needs in the supported assessment and converts them into points.

The levels of need in each part of the assessment are weighted to give a number of points. The greater the level of need, the more points you will be awarded.

The Resource Allocation System will give you a provisional budget by multiplying the number of points by the cash awarded for each point. The provisional budget is what the Council estimates you will need in your Personal Budget to meet the social care needs identified in your assessment.

Charging

Your finances will be assessed to work out how much of your Personal Budget you can afford to pay yourself, if any. This means that the Personal Budget you receive will be made up of the council's contribution and your contribution.

What are the benefits of the Resource Allocation System?

The benefits of the Resource Allocation System are that combined with the Financial Assessment it enables people to know roughly how much funding is available for their social care support quickly.

It is a fair system, as people with similar levels of need will receive a similar amount of funding.

It is easy to understand how your provisional amount is worked out, so that you can tell us if you think we have not considered something.
